Auntie and her niece Erin both love flowers. Auntie is proud of her flower garden, and Erin likes to be with her there. One day Erin finds a funny kind of "worm" in the garden and calls Auntie over to see it. They call it Mr. Clown due to its colorful stripes. To learn what it is, they observe it and use the Internet. Then, they follow its progress in Auntie's garden. Erin learns a valuable lesson in nature.

Brett and his dad visit England. Brett observes many things new to him. His dad patiently explains that different things work in different places and that Brett should not be alarmed. Brett enjoys his experience, including a visit to a castle, and learns that different does not mean wrong.
